

TRAVEL INFORMATION

It is recommended to carry the Enbrel® prescription with you, as well as a letter from your doctor (in English and German), or the document «Certificate for transport of Enbrel® (etanercept)» - if you need to explain to Customs and Airport Security why you have to keep Enbrel® pre-filled syringes or Enbrel® MYCLIC® pre-filled pens in your carry-on baggage. Please don't forget to keep a copy of the prescription and the letter at home in case you lose the originals.

Your doctor can issue a «Certificate for transport of Enbrel® (etanercept)» for you. This certificate is completed for you personally and contains important product and transportation information in numerous languages.

If you still have questions about «Travelling with Enbrel®», please discuss them with your treating doctor.

TREATMENT INFORMATION

Enbrel® is a medication for injection that requires a prescription. The original packaging contains needles and syringes for injection.

Patients are dependent on the medication and cannot interrupt treatment.

Enbrel® must also be stored between 2 and 8 °C while travelling and at the destination.

TRAVEL INFORMATION

Important before and during travel

If you are flying, please enquire in advance from your airline whether Enbrel® can be refrigerated between 2 and 8 °C during the flight. Please note that Enbrel® should not be frozen.

Please make sure that Enbrel® can be stored under refrigeration at your destination (2–8 °C).

Take Enbrel® as carry-on baggage in the original packaging in the Pfizer cooler bag with cooling elements.

Please note that the cooler bag provided by Pfizer is only meant for short-term use.

Please ensure that Enbrel® is always transported and stored in the original packaging.

One-time option en route or as needed

Enbrel® can be stored at room temperature (up to a maximum of 25 °C) for a single time period of up to 4 weeks. Enbrel® must not be refrigerated again once it has been stored at room temperature. Enbrel® that has not been used within 4 weeks after removal from the refrigerator must be discarded.
